OHIO CAMPAIGN IS OFF TODAY TO FAST START

Two Districts To Elect Representatives On February 6

BURTON SEEKING DONAHEY'S PLACE

Senator Robert A. Taft Continues Drive On New Deal

(By Associated Press) COLUMBUS, Jan. 29.—Campaigning in what promises to be a whirlwind political year for Ohio began in earnest today in two congressional districts.

With only eight days remaining before the special Feb. 6 primary, 10 candidates in the 17th district and four in the 22nd battled for nominations to positions left vacant by the deaths of Reps. William A. Ashbrook, Democrat, and Chester C. Bolton, Republican.

Lincoln Completed

This lineup of candidates was completed Saturday as part of a weekend of Ohio political developments which included:

1—Mayor Harold H. Burton's announcement at Cleveland he would seek the Republican nomination for the U. S. senate seat held by Vic Donahey, Democrat. (Donahey is expected to seek re-nomination.)

2—The authoritatively reported selection of Judge Charles W. Montgomery of Newark as the "second choice" candidate of Ohio Republican delegates who will go to their national convention backing U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft for the presidential nomination.

3—A Taft assertion that "the utter confusion of the present government is one of the main reasons why the people have decided that a complete change is needed in 1946."

4—Criticism of Gov. John W. Bricker by the League of Young Democratic Clubs of Ohio and its endorsement of the "broad, humanitarian, forward-looking ideals" of the New Deal with "the sincere wish that those objects be continued."

5—Announcement by Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow of Cincinnati that he would be a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination only if no other candidate would back his program for reorganizing capitalism.

6—Further evidence of lack of Democratic party harmony came from the 17th congressional district, where leaders failed to agree on a candidate for the short term nomination and as a result seven Democrats entered the race. They are:

Frank Cave of Mansfield, former Ohio legislator, Dr. Ben A. Arneson, Ohio Wesleyan university professor, George J. McDonald, Newark attorney, William Haas, Delaware attorney, B. F. Berenbaum, Knox county attorney, Ben West, Mt. Vernon coal dealer, and Byron B. Ashbrook, Johnstown Federal Savings and Loan Co., president. Ashbrook is a nephew of the late Representative Ashbrook.

There were three Republicans, but the district organization backed J. Harry McGregor of West Lafayette, majority leader of the Ohio house of representatives. The

SPOTLIGHT HITS OHIO SENATORS

Taft Plans Southern Trip; Donahey To Announce His Plans Soon

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The political spotlight will shine even brighter than usual on Ohio's Senators next month.

Republican Robert A. Taft, campaigning for the presidential nomination, will make a swing into the south.

Democrat Vic Donahey, who wants to retire but is listening to suggestions that he stay in public service, intends to disclose his plans early in the month.

David S. Ingalls of Cleveland, who will accompany Taft, said it would be the south's most important Republican event in recent years. The junior senator will speak at St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 2 and the next day will address a civic luncheon in Miami and a party rally at Bayfront park.

Indications are growing that Donahey's decision will depend mainly on who he thinks will be the Democratic presidential nominee.

The senator, withheld comment on his talk with President Roosevelt last week except to say they discussed the Ohio political situation. Donahey insisted he did not tell the President whether he would seek re-nomination for the senate term expiring this year. He said previously he would stay in politics only "if necessary."

Associates said it was probable that Donahey talked with the President about proposals in Ohio that he be a "favorite son" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination with the understanding that his pledged delegates could go for Roosevelt if convention sentiment indicated third term support.

Donahey grumbled audibly when the proposals were made in Columbus.

Warren Man Is Fined As Result of Accident At North Jackson

Four motorists, three of them coal truck operators, were arrested by state highway patrolmen here over the weekend.

Today the mercury was climbing. It was 23 degrees above zero at 2 p. m.

Joseph C. Bollinger of Warren, charged with unsafe driving as the result of an accident at the junction of Routes 45 and 18 at North Jackson Saturday afternoon, was fined $10 and costs by Justice B. A. Russell at North Jackson.

Other cars involved in the collision were those of Jay Adams of Youngstown and Willard Gaden of Akron. About six tons of coal in Bollinger's truck was dumped onto the highway.

A Levi Louer of Steubenville escaped injury but his wife, Anna 42, suffered head bruises when Louer lost control of his automobile on Route 45, near North Jackson, Saturday afternoon and the car upset in a ditch.

Russell Laubacher of the Lisbon road and John Zines, Jr., each arrested on charges of driving coal trucks with insufficient lights, were fined $10 and costs apiece by Mayor Norman Phillips yesterday.

Wilbur J. Wilson of Indiana, Pa., arrested by State Patrolman James White on a charge of unsafe driving on Route 30, just south of Lisbon, was fined $5 and costs by Justice L. E. Chamberlain at Calcutta.

Rice was exonerated by witnesses, Officer D. E. Pike stated.

"Aunt Nancy" Harrold, Oldest At Columbiana, Is 90 Tuesday

Has Been Unusually Active Until Last Four Weeks; Postcard Shower Is Arranged

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 29.—Tuesday will mark the 90th birthday anniversary of Columbiana's oldest resident, Mrs. Nancy Harrold, better known as "Aunt Nancy."

Mrs. Harrold lives at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cassius Orr, North Main st. "Aunt Nancy" was born on a farm in Mahoning county, Jan. 30, 1850, daughter of Joseph and Mary Culp. She is one of the family of 10 children, four of whom are still living. Her three brothers are Sam, William and Isaac Culp, all of Columbiana.

She received her education in the Germantown school north of Columbiana and was graduated at the age of 13 years. She was one of the best spellers in the district, was always present at the spelling schools and very often spelled down the entire group. Even yet she helps the young folks in their spelling. Another of her favorite entertainments was to attend singing school at Boyer and Germantown school where boys and girls gathered usually on Sunday afternoon from the 2 to 4 o'clock, walking the distance of four miles. Her teacher, Mr. Sell, a former North Lima undertaker, taught without any musical instrument.

The boys and girls paid the teacher with what they could gather up among themselves.

Mrs. Harrold was married to Sam Harrold Oct. 13, 1872 and she and her husband celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary 18 years ago. He died 17 years ago.

They were married by Rev. Hilbish at North Lima and went to housekeeping in a log house located where the Nicola place is now on the Salem road. She has lived in Columbiana all her life except a few years in the country. Her husband was a well known blacksmith. She is the mother of three children.

NAZI BOMBERS DRIVEN OFF IN BRITISH RAID

Attack English Vessels In 400-Mile Stretch Along Coast

REPORT 8 SHIPS ARE UNDER FIRE

In Finland, High Command Reports 1,250 Russians Killed

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—German bombing planes were reported to have attacked British ships along 400 miles of Britain's east coast today in the most widespread raids on shipping yet attempted in the war.

Attacks on vessels were reported from the mouth of the River Tay in the north to the Kentish coast in the south. They continued from shortly after 9 a. m. to midday.

Anti-aircraft guns burst into action in the Tyne side area, and air raid warnings were sounded in a number of northeast coast districts.

Drive Off Bombers

British fighters were credited with driving off the bombers. Ships reporting attacks were listed as the British Officer, 6,990 tons, Atholl Monarch, Danny Bryn, Stanburn, 2,881 tons, Otterpool, 4,867 tons, Knitsley, 2,272 tons, Wellpark, 4,649 tons and the 5,831-ton Imperial Monarch, off the Scottish coast, which reported that the attacking bombers were driven off by British fighters.

Seven bombs were dropped near the 4,993-ton Llanwrn in Tyne side without a hit, the British reported. The German raids came on a day of bitter winter weather which brought British rail and highway traffic to a state described as the most chaotic in memory.

FINNISH DRIVE PLANNED HERE

Dr. Richard Harwood Is Named Chairman For Salem Campaign

Dr. Richard Harwood has just been appointed general chairman of a campaign being organized in Salem to raise funds for Finnish relief.

The appointment was made by Eugene Van Cleef, Ohio State university professor, who is serving as state chairman of the relief fund being handled nationally by Herbert Hoover.

In organizing the campaign in Salem, Dr. Harwood expects to appoint group chairmen to conduct the campaign among those interested in various civic activities.

While no particular time limit has been set to complete the work, he plans to concentrate the work during Finland Week, Feb. 4 to 12.

Contributions will be received at The News office. If you can spare a dime or a quarter, leave it at this office. Or if you are financially able, checks may be made out to the Finnish Relief Fund and sent to The News.

National headquarters are in New York, where all funds raised here will be sent. Every cent contributed will be forwarded, as there will be no expense in conducting the campaign.

"Hi-Yuh, Toots, Let's Get Hitched!" That's The Modern Proposal

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—By far the most marriage proposals are now made outside the girl's home, probably in some automobile, the Institute of Family Relations deduces from a study of 1,181 proposals.

Dr. Paul Popenoe, general director of the institute, concluded: "Modern homes are small or lack privacy. The automobile gives the couple a chance to be alone. Hence 25 per cent of the proposals were made in the car and only 23 per cent in the girl's home."

Dr. Popenoe contended the average man's proposal technique is disgraceful:

"A common performance, it appears, is for the young couple to be looking into a furniture store window when the man inquires, 'how about you and me fixing up a little love nest, huh?'"

One man proposed as his girl, frightened by a rattlesnake in the path, stepped back into his arms. Another proposed after he had finished a slab of gooseberry pie at a picnic and was introduced to the girl who made it.

Sportsmen's Club Takes Aid To Game

Distribute Food, Build Shelters In Salem District

Carrying on their work in behalf of birds and other wild life during the current cold spell, members of the Sportsmen's club of Salem High school distributed food and constructed shelters in the Salem area last Saturday.

Shelters are being constructed of brush and grass when corn stalks are not available.

The young sportsmen are appealing for additional support for their movement, explaining that, although the weatherman promises relief from cold weather soon, the change may come too late if more grain is not donated for distribution.

Wheat, corn and scratch feed make ideal donations, club members declare. Persons willing to help in the movement are asked to leave their donations at the High school or telephone the school and ask for a club member to call at their home.

Newest participant in the conservation program is Goshen grange, which endorsed the movement after hearing an address by E. A. Englehart, club advisor, at its meeting last Friday night.

Generous contributions were collected from grange members on Saturday. Mrs. L. E. Beery of the Ellsworth rd. is in charge of the grange's participation in the program.

Attending the grange meeting with Faculty Advisor Englehart were Joseph Vender, president of the Sportsmen's club; Robert Bichel, chairman of the wild life committee, and Robert Booth and Lloyd Sell. They were introduced to the grangers.

SETS MIDNIGHT DEADLINE FOR CITY ENGINEER

Service Director Acts For "Good Of All Concerned"

BARCKHOFF HAS NOTHING TO SAY

Returns To Office Today After Absence Due To Illness

(By Associated Press)

Service Director Charles T. Kennedy today asked for the resignation of City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff.

The service director explained that he had requested Barckhoff's resignation "for the good of all persons concerned."

A letter which Kennedy sent the engineer by registered mail, reads as follows:

"This is to inform you that after much consideration, I have come to the conclusion that for the good of the water department and of the service department of the City of Salem, and for the good of all parties concerned, I, as service director of the City of Salem, hereby request your resignation from the position of city engineer of the said City of Salem."

"Monday, Jan. 29, 1940, shall be the deadline for the submission of your resignation."

Kennedy indicated today that unless the engineer resigned by midnight, he would take further steps tomorrow to gain his removal.

Barckhoff, subject to civil service regulations, said at his office in city hall this morning that he had no comment to make. He has been coming to his home for the last several weeks due to a severe cold.

Barckhoff, associated with the engineering department at city hall for 25 years, has been city engineer 12 years.

32 County Bridges Listed As Unsafe For Heavy Traffic

LISBON, Jan. 29.—County Engineer Charles Snyder has completed an inspection of the 1,200 bridges in the county, and today filed a report with the county commissioners, listing 32 considered unsafe for heavy traffic and which should be replaced by new structures.

The report states that a file of bridges by townships has been set up in the engineer's office in order that the condition of each bridge may be conveniently determined. As a bridge is improved the files are rotated. The 32 bridges set forth in the report are considered unsafe for loads exceeding three to five tons. Many of them are on routes traveled by school buses while others are submitted to the heavy traffic of coal trucks.

Bridges listed in the report include: Bridge No. 36, Unity township; No. 140, Fairfield township; No. 2-6-218-221, Salem township; No. 472, Butler township; No. 572-564, Knox township; No. 627-633-648 and 648 in West township; No. 817-834-848-858 in Center township; No. 119-812-913-923-940 in Elkrum township; No. 1008-1022-1048 in Middleton township; No. 1229-1232-1216-1233 in Madison township; No. 1310-1213 in Wayne township; No. 1417 in Franklin township, and No. 1612 in Yellow Creek township.

Dog Catcher's Aid Named By County

LISBON, Jan. 29.—Columbiana county commissioners, acting to check the spread of rabies among animals in the county, today named William Pusey of East Liverpool as assistant dog catcher to aid in a drive which will start Thursday.

Pusey, who will receive $125 a month, will aid Dog Warden Dan Butch of Leetonia in a roundup of stray dogs throughout the county.

All dogs found running at large, in cities or in rural sections, will be impounded at Lisbon and owners made to pay $3.50 to obtain their release. Animals not claimed after a certain date will be killed.

The commissioners explained that in order to curb the rabies spread in the county it was necessary to provide the dog warden with an assistant, and added that quarantine expenses, high death claims, etc., as a result of rabies was much greater than the cost of paying an assistant dog catcher.

ROTARY INSTITUTES

It is a startling thing that there should be held in this and numerous other communities throughout the United States, Institutes of International Understanding. They are evidences of an abounding optimism and good will on the part of men who believe that even in the midst of war we still can have faith in the probability of world peace.

The Rotary clubs which are sponsoring these institutes in nearly 300 communities throughout the country have for some years been definitely interested in advancing international understanding. They are of the firm belief that humanity can be inspired and organized for good will and peace. They believe that an intelligent and informed public opinion in the various countries of the world will be a contributing factor in the preservation of those cultural values which we often refer to as our "Western civilization".

These institutes are presenting four prominent speakers who will discuss problems in the field of international relations in a factual and informing manner. These speakers are by no means propagandists who will come to influence a susceptible public to some particular point of view or in behalf of some nation or group within a particular nation. Their objective is to furnish background material on the basis of which the person of good sense and alert interest in world affairs may form his own opinion. These speakers present no plan for peace, nor do they advocate any crusade to change world situations.

The attitude of those who sponsor these institutes, as well as those who address them, is that of developing international understanding and is epitomized in the slogan, "The struggle to understand the other fellow will disarm us of pettiness and prejudice". It is of paramount importance that our people be well informed on world affairs; hence the timeliness of our community institute which opens tomorrow night.

WHO GOT SLAPPED?

In the long run the social security administration—one of the "new agencies of public power"—has more to gain than to lose by President Roosevelt's veto of the bill authorizing restitution of old age pension money due Ohio. The money was impounded following the board's investigation of old age assistance in this state in the fall of 1938.

It was primarily a problem of administration. There was evidence of fault just before the 1938 election; Ohioans agree it was convincing evidence. Either the social security board has to assert its authority, or tacitly permit a policy of playing politics with social security to be established without challenge. But speaking of playing politics—

President Roosevelt's veto was construed in Washington as a slap at Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, who had approved the bill. Mr. McNutt's approval was construed as a slap at Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the social security board, who thought the bill was contrary to sound public policy.

In Columbus, the Bricker administration construed the veto as a two-handed slap at it and at former Gov. Martin L. Davey, in whose administration the irregularities occurred. And in congress—yes, in congress it was charged freely that the whole shebang was politics pure and simple. Of course, it also would have been politics the other way 'round, but in politics such things aren't mentioned.

INNOCENCE IS ITS OWN DEFENSE

When that red flag unfurled over the leonine head of John L. Lewis at Columbus, consternation was understandable, but not intelligent.

All theories as to the perpetrators of the deed aside, the banner itself proved that Mr. Lewis had nothing to do with Communism and that Communists had nothing to do with the banner.

The official flag of U. S. S. R. bears in the upper left hand corner a five pointed star outlined in gold. There was no star on the unreasonable facsimile waved at Columbus.

Furthermore, the hammer and sickle, instead of being in the center, as on the Columbus imitation, are beneath the star and above the middle. The group is in the same relative position as the field of stars in the flag of the United States.

If further proof be needed that there was no taint of Communism at Columbus, the handle of the sickle in the official flag appears on both sides of the blade, instead of on just one side, and the head of the hammer resembles that on a section gang's spike hammer, not that of a circus roustabout's sledge. It would appear that Mr. Lewis has been saved by technicalities. As usual when the red flag's waved, it was a false alarm.

REASONABLE DOUBT

Three things are against the red army in Finland—Finnish weather and Russian incompetence. Of the three it begins to appear that the important ones may be the weather and incompetence.

Latest predicament of the reds, like those that have preceded it, tells of armies stranded far from supply bases; doomed to perish under the combined onslaught of extreme cold, extreme hunger and the guns of the enemy. The guns are useful only for hastening the job.

It is a question whether Russia could have invaded Finland this winter with an army of conquest even had the Finns been able to offer only nominal resistance, instead of well organized counter-attacks. A mass expedition through inhospitable country in sub-zero temperatures calls for more preparation than any Russian army ever mustered.

A suggestion that cold weather and Russian mud-dling may be at least as important as Finnish resistance does not detract from the bravery and skill of the defenders. It only recognizes the well known fact that even a very good army can be defeated by fatal weaknesses behind its own lines and unusual weather—and Russia's army isn't good.

JANUARY POSTOFFICE

The silly season comes during August dog days. The thing that happens in January is a hangover. It might be called January postoffice; it's always hooked up one way or another with kissing.

Some professor, or self-styled health expert, says kissing is a bad thing—spreads influenza, sore throats and the common cold.

Someone else with equal appreciation of publicity says 'tain't so, that kissing is friendly and should be carried on 12 months a year.

But they never explain what kissing or not kissing has to do with the colds that just happen. A fellow takes elaborate precautions, never kissing anyone unless they kiss him first, and catches cold anyway, probably because that's his January destiny. No wonder men begin to brood over kissing in January. Either way they lose.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, January 30

THE GENERAL trend of events on this day, according to interesting lunar and mutual aspects, will be along progressive and constructive lines. The mental and creative faculties will be highly stimulated and directed into new grooves of expression, possibly in the way of experimentation or explorations in invention, science, art or literature. However, there may be obstacles and delays to challenge the resources. Try compromise and finesse in handling such opposition.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of much progress and productive activity. Activity may be in fresh fields of endeavor, possibly in literary, inventive, scientific, artistic or mechanical lines of construction. Definite headway is likely, despite several forms of opposition, obstruction, postponements or setbacks. These may be handled with diplomacy or connivance.

A child born on this day may be studious, diligent and steady, perhaps talented in creative lines. It may have artistic ability seeking novel expressions.

Protecting Others Essential In Cases Of Scarlet Fever

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
SEVERAL questions from M. A. C. Rock Creek, Ohio, have to do with disinfection after scarlet fever.

"Is it possible for a person to carry scarlet fever infection into a room by simply passing through it? In case infection could be carried into a room in this manner, how long would it last? Would disinfection still be needed after a period of weeks?"

In the home reduced to spraying of disinfectant was directed by the community nurse, but the spraying was done by the family and there is reason to believe that some of the children's dolls and books that were played with during the illness were not disinfected for fear they might be spoiled.

In this case how long would it be before such things were safe for other children to handle?" The general principle of dealing with scarlet fever is based on the fact that it is an infectious disease which is carried by persons or objects (fomites) that the scarlet other substances which produce eczema and scurffiness.

Treatment is obvious. It consists of cutting down on the amount of hand-washing in the winter time, and in the use of toilet lanolin liberally applied at night before going to bed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
B. F. E.: "What is the cause of a burning on the side of the mouth and tongue?"
Answer: This might be due to a number of things. It certainly should call for careful examination by a competent doctor. It may be due to anemia and it may be due to an ulceration. It may be due to a snag of a tooth.

John Doe: Please tell the value, if any, an adult may derive from the use of parsley juice."
Answer: I know of no special value of parsley juice. I would be glad to hear from any of my readers who think there is some benefit in it.

E. H. S.: "In a case of known increase of 20 per cent of the hydrochloric acid in the stomach, would you consider four or five cigarettes a day injurious?"

Answer: There is no question that cigarettes increase the hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Therefore, I should say that their use would be contra-indicated in view of this condition.

They Got The Rink

LEWISTON, Me.—A group of young hockey players unwittingly used a good argument in protesting a ban of the city park rink by the schools superintendent.

Wearing their skates and carrying hockey sticks, they stormed city hall and so scared the flooring in the superintendent's office and corridor that he hurriedly rescinded the ban to get them out.

SYNOPSIS

At Miracle Mesa, the Douglas ancestral estate near Mexico, a girl named Lola awaits the return of her fiancé, Jack Douglas, after an absence of six years. Lola is the adopted daughter of Jack's Aunt Ines. Her friend, Alison Neale, owner of the neighboring ranch, hopes Jack is the leader they are waiting for to fight the raiders. In an attack upon the trail two men also discuss Jack's return. "If you're sure you won't let Jack Douglas see you two days once he comes back," Baker (one of Jack's riders) "is joining the world what will happen when Douglas comes back," says one. "It's time I made an appointment with Baker," the other replies. Next day, as Jack rides along the Verde Road with his companion, Ed Paxton, the latter pulls him into the shadow of a mesquite barely an instant before a band of horsemen come tearing around the bend. "Raiders!" Paxton exclaims. "Some rancher will find himself a lack tomorrow." The marauders usually station guards along the way to ward off pursuit, so, shortly after, when a lone rider arrives on the scene, Douglas believes it to be one of the guards and makes a flying tackle only to discover his victim is Alison Neale! She had been trailing the raiders and suggests that the men accompany her Jack is willing but Paxton says it would be foolhardy. As the girl rides off in anger, Ed remarks, "I wonder just how much she really wanted us to follow that band."

Douglas crossed the porch on tiptoe and looked in the window.

Later Jack arrives home and receives a warm welcome from his aunt. As he prepares to retire, he looks up to see Lola standing in the doorway. Jack enfolds her in his arms, whispering "Lola! Lola! How lovely you are!" In the morning, Donna Ines shows Jack the ranch's ledgers. It was face to face with failure. Later, Jack goes riding with Frank Baker.

CHAPTER VI

Out over the broad valley the two rode stirrup to stirrup, and Douglas found himself remembering the winding arroyos as he passed them, landmarks he had all but forgotten. Finally he asked, "How have things been with you, Frank?"

Baker looked hesitatingly up, then as if overcoming some strong reluctance, he said, "Everything's wrong here. It's been wrong for now—ever since the copper boom brought that bunch of miners and half-breeds to Cobre. The miners have jumped the water-rights on a dozen ranches, and the cattlemen just take it. Everybody is laying down—everybody in the whole valley, but I think maybe we are the worst. First we left the Cobre gang out our fences and used our water-rights just because we weren't the nerve to stop them. When the raiders started, we let them beat up our herders, order them out of the country, and tell us to head in generally. I don't mean Paxton's yellow, but these things have got him down. What we need is—" With a gleam of white teeth the boy smiled up at him. "We need a he-man boss—we need you."

"How do you know I'm the one?" "You've got to be. Besides, I know you are. I haven't forgotten the way you made things stand around in the old days. It was the hope of your coming back here that's kept me going. I been telling the boys that when Jack Douglas gets back everything will be different. It'll put a new heart into all of us; we'll find out where those ornery raiders hole up, and clean 'em out like you did those mine-jumpers years ago. We'll make that bunch of bums over in Cobre keep to their own range. Why, this valley could be the greatest ranching country in the world. Every man here would work his soul out for a real leader, but we've got to have somebody that's not afraid to come out and fight."

There was no mistaking the boy's earnestness, and a thrill passed through Douglas to know that in spite of dark years and threatening future something of that old unconquerable spirit still lived among his vaqueros.

"Where do these raiders hide out?" Douglas asked.

"That's the crazy part of it—no body knows."

"But you can't hide a hundred horsemen in this country without somebody seeing them."

"I know you can't. Yet that's exactly what happens."

"Why not track them?"

Baker laughed. "They only raid on nights of wind and storm, and their tracks lead out into the desert until every trace is blown away. I've suspected Cobre, but I been there often enough to know the only horses they have are a few broken-down broom-tails for the mine work."

With a sudden surge of feeling, Douglas' arm swept out before him.

"This land was my forefathers' land, Frank. Now it is mine, and I pledge you this—not so long as I live will I give up one square inch of Miracle Mesa. If the miners or these raiders want war—let it be war. For not while I live will I tolerate violence done to these people who are my people. Does that answer your question?"

Baker's eyes were shining. "It sure does! And once the boys know where you stand—"

But Douglas held up a warning hand. "Not until I am ready. Your greatest weakness, Frank, may be your lack of patience."

The boy flushed. "That's what Paxton says. Just the same, it's going to take something more than patience to cure our troubles. And down there may be something that's adding to our troubles." He pointed into a narrow canyon where a small adobe dwelling stood against the base of the cliff.

Douglas eyed it curiously. "That was not there in my day."

"It's the hold-out of the Brotherhood—their meeting-place. Nearly every peon in the country belongs—they're afraid not to belong. It's been a bad thing for the valley. Every member gives his allegiance to the Brotherhood instead of to the man who pays him to herd his cattle or tend his ranch. All the old loyalty and trust are gone. I've learned a thing or two about that outfit."

Baker stopped. From out behind the cedars a tattered, barefooted peon came toward them carrying the long staff of a herder of sheep. Passing close to the two horsemen, he took off his hat and looked up.

"Buenos dias, senores," he saluted them in sing-song Spanish, and his eyes rested on Baker, then he shuffled down the path.

To Douglas that sudden quiet emergence and the man's sharp glance evoked a vague feeling of disquiet, and he asked, "Who is he?"

"One of our own herders," Baker nodded toward a small tent pitched on the opposite side of the knoll. "He stays there."

For several minutes Douglas' eye followed that recreating form, and at last he turned to his horse. "It was good to see you, Frank. I've got a long ride before me now, but tomorrow I will be at the upper ranch—we can talk more of these things." He held out his hand, and again he felt the firm pressure of the other's grasp.

It was like turning back the years to ride again among those old haunts he knew so well, and throughout that morning Douglas covered miles of valley and desert, but by early afternoon he turned toward the pine-covered hills, crossed the valley and began climbing the steep foothills trail. It had been years since Douglas followed that narrow trail. The trees that flanked it were thicker and the old Forest Service blazes almost obliterated with time, but at length gaining the crest of the foothills, he halted his horse just outside an aspen fence that stretched about a gray and white building. A sign above the gate announced, "Ranger Station, Pueblo National Forest," and smoke spiraled upward from the chimney. Tying his horse, Douglas crossed the porch on tiptoe, then stopped to look in through the low window.

A stockily built man in a khaki shirt was bending over a map in there, his blue eyes fixed in dogged concentration on the work before him. Hearing someone at the window, he looked up and exclaimed, "Jack Douglas, by Gad!"

Kicking back his chair, he rushed through the door, and in the next minute he was clasping the other's hand.

"You old lizard, you!" Face beaming, he pounded Douglas on the shoulder, then in short, explosive sentences began bombarding him with questions. "When did you get here? Why didn't you wire me? I'd have ridden over. Boy, it's good to see you. How many years—Never mind, it's too many—and not such good ones either, by heaven. But come in here—come in and close that door." The rumbling voice filled the room with its heavy resonance. The man himself was like a bear—he seemed indestructible.

Theater Attractions

Victor Hugo's classic, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," at the State tonight and Tuesday brings a new "hunchback" to the screen. This role formerly played by the veteran character actor, Lon Chaney, is this time in the hands of Charles Laughton, whose talents as a character actor are well known.

Not one of the many Laughton creations, not even his Captain Eligh of the Bounty, approaches his latest character. For sheer mastery of makeup and illusion this role as the pitiful deformed ringier of bells in the ancient Notre Dame cathedral in Paris has been unsurpassed.

Film fans who like the delectable aesthetic type of entertainment will not find the picture to their liking but it will be meat and drink to fans who have stronger constitutions.

The story, unchanged from the silent film version, opens at the annual Feast of the Fools celebration. It concerns the adventures and romance of a group of the festival participants: Frolo, an unscrupulous notebearer, played by Sir Cedric Hardwicke; Esmeralda, the gypsy girl, played by Maureen O'Hara; Gringoire, a young poet, played by Edmund O'Brien; Phoebus, police officer, Alan Marshal. Others in the story are Thomas Mitchell, Minna Gombell, Walter Hampden, Harry Davenport, Rod LaRocque (silent star) and George Zucco.

that its troops had killed more than 1,250 Russians in two battles in which the invaders were driven back on the eastern front.

"About 800" Russian troops were killed and 160 taken prisoner northeast of Lake Ladoga, the army reported, and in the Altajski sector to the south "the enemy left over 450 dead on the field."

While the Finns were acknowledging bitter fighting on the eastern front, planes tried to raid Helsinki but were driven off by anti-aircraft fire after causing two alarms.

The fighting northeast of Lake Ladoga "became very fierce in character," the army communique said. "Our troops repulsed all the enemy's attacks and captured a few enemy strong points."

No Opposition

CLEVELAND, Jan. 29.—A board of elections ruling today left Mrs. Frances Bolton without opposition in the Feb. 6 Republican primary to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, Congressman Chester C. Bolton of the 22nd district.

Thomas M. Carey, clerk of the Cuyahoga county election board, said the only other person who filed, Albert J. J. Heidemann, was ruled out because of insufficiency of Republican signatures on his petitions.

Fire Hits School

COAL GROVE, Jan. 29.—Fire attributed to a defect in the heating system destroyed one wing of the 10-room Monitor school last night. ## FLORIDA COLD PROVES COSTLY

Citrus And Vegetable Growers Fear Multi-million Dollar Loss In Frigid Wave

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 29.—Florida's coldest weather in a quarter of a century left the state's citrus and vegetable growers facing a multi-million dollar loss today as sunshine lifted winter's bitter 10-day siege across the southland and middle west.

Early reports indicated an almost complete loss of truck crops in deep south Florida, and many growers made ready for replanting. The citrus crop was damaged heavily and fear was held for the state's sugar cane crop.

Vegetable crop losses in Dade county (Miami) were estimated at between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000, while in Broward county, planters said their damage might reach $5,000,000.

A cold wave was climaxed Sunday when temperatures ranged from 10 degrees above zero at Deland, 17 degrees in uncultivated portions of the everglades, to 42 degrees at Key West.

Florida contributed at least six deaths to the nation's total of 158 attributed to the current cold wave. Weather-connected deaths neared the 400 mark for the past three weeks.

Elsewhere in the south and midwest, temperatures rose slowly and forecasters said the worst of the cold was over.

In Miami, thousands of youngsters saw their first icicles and naturally formed ice. Coils in a number of solar water heaters froze and burst. These units use the sun's rays to heat water to the steaming point.

WARN ROUMANIA ON OIL ACTION

Allies And Germany Put Carol's Country In The Middle

(By Associated Press)

BUCHAREST, Jan. 29.—A highly-placed informant reports great Britain and France have urged Rumania to understand they may break off economic relations with the country unless the question of oil for Germany is settled to their satisfaction.

The basis of the reported British-French representations is the Rumanian "oil dictatorship" under which the allies fear their concerns in Rumania will be forced to furnish oil for the German war machine.

Rumania is in the middle.

Warnings From Both Sides

On one hand, the allies' envoys are said to have confronted Rumania with the alternative of opposing Germany, or losing British-French trade.

On the other, Germany is said to have warned that she will be forced to take "other measures," if she doesn't get larger quantities of Rumanian oil. To underline this need, it is reported, Germany told Bucharest oil was a matter of life or death for the reich.

There are unconfirmed rumors the British and French-controlled oil companies in Rumania are considering a campaign of passive resistance in their plants against any Rumanian attempts to require shipment of their product to Germany.

Along with United States companies, the British and French concerns control the bulk of Rumania's petroleum production.

(The first informed reaction in London to the report the allies had threatened a breach of commercial relations was that such a step is "extremely unlikely.")

Needs German Co-Operation

In reply to the reported allied representations, the Rumanian cabinet is said to have argued that this country could not drop "economic cooperation" with Germany because more than 40 per cent of her entire foreign trade lies in that quarter.

Still other officials point out it is reasonable for Rumania to do everything possible to avoid offense to Germany, because the reich's armies are near at hand as compared with those of the allies.

Names Vivien Leigh In Divorce Action

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Laurence Olivier, British stage and screen star who has appeared in several Hollywood productions, was divorced today by his actress-wife, Jill Esmond, who named Actress Vivien Leigh as co-respondent.

Olivier and Miss Leigh—the Scarlett O'Hara of "Gone With the Wind"—have appeared in several motion pictures together.

Herbert Leigh Holman, British attorney and husband of Miss Leigh, also has filed a petition for divorce, naming Olivier as co-respondent.

other aspirants were Walter Woodward of Belleville, who was defeated by Ashbrook two years ago, and Col. Oliver Dockery, retired Newark army officer.

Bolton's widow, Mrs. Frances Bolton, was opposed for the Republican nomination in the 22nd district by Albert J. J. Heidemann, gas heater concern employee, but Heidemann may be required to withdraw because of insufficient signatures on his nominating petitions.

Fieger Has Opposition

Anthony Fieger of Parma, who was elected to represent the 22nd four years ago in the Democratic landslide, also had opposition on his party slate from Merritt A. Vickery, Lakewood councilman.

Special elections in the two districts will be held Feb. 27 to elect representatives for terms ending Dec. 31. The 17th embraces Licking, Deaware, Knox, Ashland, Richland and Coshocton counties and the 22nd Geauga, Lake and part of Cuyahoga.

There appeared little likelihood that Senator Donahue would have opposition if he seeks renomination, but a Republican "free-for-all" is anticipated.

Burton is the first Republican to announce, but other possibilities are Rep. Dudley White, Norwalk publisher; Rep. George Bender, Cuyahoga county party chairman; Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, and Louis J. Taber of Columbus, national grange master.

Ed D. Schorr, state Republican chairman, is expected to announce at a meeting here of the state executive committee Wednesday selection of Judge Montgomery of the fifth district, appeals court bench as Ohio national convention delegates "second choice."

Delegates are required in Ohio to have the written consent of their first and second choices. Senator Taft has been campaigning nationally for the presidential nomination. The "second choice" position is regarded as strictly honorary.

"Satisfactory progress" in the selection of Republican delegates was reported by Taft and Schorr. Taft said there were "a couple of local disputes," but none was serious.

Taft's renewed attack on the New Deal, in which he asserted the people "look forward to the 1940 election as time to clean house," was made at a McKinley day banquet in Columbus.

Representative Shafer (R-Mich.) in Canton, home of William McKinley, the nation's 25th president, said that while Republicans did not oppose reciprocal principles, "we do oppose the New Deal method and program of reciprocal trade treaties that are willing to trade off and give away the American markets that belong to the American farmer and workingman."

Ohio's Young Democrats avoided direct support of a third term for President Roosevelt, leaders asserting such a stand would violate the organization's constitution. The league accused Governor Bricker of "gross neglect" of his economy pledge in calling the special congressional district elections.

James T. Bolan of Toledo defeated Ralph Groves of Steubenville in a close fight for the league presidency.

Seeks Nomination As Representative

Attorney Lozier Caplan, who has just completed three terms as city solicitor of Salem, today announced his candidacy for Republican nomination as state representative.

Caplan is seeking one of the two posts to be filled at the election next November. John P. Stephenson of East Liverpool, the Republican incumbent, is expected to file for a second term.

After graduating from Salem High school, Caplan studied at Akron university and completed his law course at Ohio State university. He has been practicing here for several years. His activities in behalf of the Republican party began as soon as he opened his law office and he helped organize and was the first president of the Young Republican club of Salem.

CHILDREN'S Frequent COLDS

For relieving discomforts of colds and night coughs, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. VapoRub's spoolite-vapor action relieves congestion of upper air passages—eases soreness of chest and back muscles—helps the youngster relax into healing sleep.

For coughing and irritated throat caused by colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue to relieve the irritation. Then massage VapoRub on throat and chest.

For "sniffles" and misery of head colds, melt VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Have the child breathe in the steam vapors. This loosens phlegm, clears air passages, makes breathing easier. Also massage VapoRub on throat and chest. Millions of families use these three time-tested treatments.

Lee Butler's Pennzoil Service Station Offers All-Around Service For Motorist

Lee Butler Filling Station Provides Complete Service For Motorist

"NUZIP" IS NEW AID TO ENGINES

Local Firm Using Product To Clear Away "Motor Gum"

A new and inexpensive way to restore new-car pep and economy has been found in NuZip, a Pennzoil product which is now on sale at the 24-hour service station operated by Lee Butler, Jennings ave. and W. State st.

NuZip is the prescription to eliminate "motor arthritis", provide more power and save on oil, gas and repairs. Scientifically prepared as an automotive purging oil, NuZip dissolves as it cleans, as it flushes.

Car owners who have used this remarkable new product say NuZip starts in where flushing oils leave off. Pennzoil laboratories have perfected NuZip to combat "motor glue", which brings on a sluggishness and loss of power in a car. Often, a gradual falling off in performance is due to this "glue" and not to mechanical deterioration as most owners suppose.

Quick Change Noted

Some motor oils and gasoline gradually coat vital engine parts with sticky gum and varnish. These deposits on friction surfaces retard action of fast moving parts, resulting in motor roughness and loss of efficiency. Greater gasoline consumption is caused by greater friction. Hard starting, sluggish operation and frequently, excessive wear is caused by "motor glue".

NuZip dissolves and removes this gum from the motor, eliminates varnish and sludge and often eliminates unsatisfactory engine performance. NuZip also is ideal for purging overdrives, transmissions and differentials. Many of those who have used this product say they immediately can notice a difference in car performance.

There's no need to tie up a car for long to have this service given. Within 60 to 90 minutes, the entire job can be done, officials report. NuZip's dissolving and cleaning action is entirely different from that of a flushing oil, they say. Recommendation is made that NuZip be used every 5,000 miles to do its best work.

Varied Service

This is only one of the many services offered by Butler. A 24-hour wrecker service is maintained. Butler also has a complete garage service, employing such modern devices as motor analyzers, Hi-Klonic motor cleaner and other utilities available to the motorist.

Damascus Lumber Company Has Many Approved Designs

With an unusually large number of contracts for spring construction already signed and many inquiries being received, the 1940 volume of home building and remodeling is expected to be exceptionally large, according to officials of the Damascus Lumber Co. in Damascus.

Scores of low-cost, small house designs prepared by the company's architectural planning department and by architects of groups with which the Damascus firm is affiliated can be seen at the lumber company's offices.

Homes built from these designs, if technically supervised throughout construction, are eligible for approved government loans. Inquiries about these designs or proposals for modernizing a home can be made at the office, or, if one prefers, an official architect from the company will call at a home or place of business.

Low Cost Homes "It should be stressed," says Damascus Lumber company officials, "that good design means more than just an attractive exterior. These designs mean utility and livability. They mean houses aimed to suit family needs, sites and types of neighborhoods. They are especially adaptable to special requirements."

"These designs provide good ventilation, economical construction and long life. Yet they are low in cost because of economies effected by skilled engineering and cooperative efforts of manufacturers, dealers and skilled workers."

"Conformity of design to stock lumber sizes minimizes wastes and adds low material costs," according to company executives.

Butler handles Pennzoil products, Kelly-Springfield tires, and also operates an up-to-date repair plant.

Regular Cleaning Is Necessary To Fight Winter Dirt

A clothes brush is a mighty convenient article to have, and to use, during these days of dirt, soot and smoke which almost constantly fill the wintry air.

But brushing is only a temporary expedient. There is only one way to insure clean garments and that is by having them cared for by a reliable firm like the Paris Cleaners, on the Benton rd.

The prudent person makes this cleaning a part of his budget. He has the Paris representative call at his home regularly. As a result, his garments are always new and fresh appearing. And, in addition to that, extra life is added. Consequently, the final cost, in the long run, is much less than appears at the moment.

The Paris Cleaners are equipped to handle winter's dirt for you. They guarantee that you will be satisfied.

"Manufacturers have cooperated to produce efficient, low-cost plumbing, heating and wiring units, thus reducing equipment costs."

New FHA Terms New terms for financing low cost homes have made home ownership possible for many with restricted incomes. In September, FHA regulations were changed to insure loans for new construction under Title I up to $2,500 for as much as 15 years. This meant that monthly payments could be lower—$20.90 a month on a $2,500 loan.

Now people worthy of credit but with low incomes can build their own homes. Builders and real estate men realized immediately that this financing satisfied the needs of a large group who before had been unable to finance new homes. Such adjustment means an improved level for the community and a greater value for the property and its neighborhood.

CHRYSLER CUTS REPAIR COSTS

Fluid Drive, Superfinished Parts Are Important Factors

Fluid drive, superfinished parts, and pistons coated with pure tin have endowed Chrysler cars with such superlative wearing qualities that major engine service operations have almost ceased to be a part of the activities of some of the larger branches and distributors, J. G. Smith, local Chrysler representative, points out.

Practically Perfect The entire driving mechanism of the new Chrysler is so nearly perfect that the branch is getting virtually no service work on this portion of the car. This is all the more remarkable in that driving conditions in New York, particularly on Manhattan Island, are probably the most trying in the world. Traffic signals are so numerous and so much of the driving must be done at a slow pace that the car is subjected to tremendous strains and shocks.

"Fluid drive," says Mr. Smith, "eliminates all the jerks and lags of stopping and starting. The car moves off at an even, smooth pace without shock to the driving mechanism. All of these shocks, to which a car with conventional transmission is constantly subjected, are absorbed by the fluid drive mechanism. Clutch, transmission, and drive shaft are thus made much longer lived. In fact, with fluid drive, an owner might well go the entire life of a new car without spending a dime for repairs to this portion of the apparatus."

Tin Coated Pistons "Tin coated pistons are another great factor in prolonging the life of the engine and keeping the car out of the service station. We virtually never get a piston repair job on one of the 1940 Chrysler models, while there once was a time when this was an important service item. Chrysler pistons are so perfectly fitted nowadays, and so well protected by their superfinished surfaces and tin plating that the owner is never conscious that he has such a thing in the car.

"Then, too, the use of superfinish on virtually all bearing surfaces in the present Chrysler helps to keep service bills down. We are able to preserve the original close tolerances indefinitely, so that an engine will perform as well after many thousands of miles as it did when first adjusted at the factory. Proper lubrication also is insured by superfinish, because there are no projecting points on the surfaces of the bearing to rupture oil films and thus permit metal-to-metal contact."

TOLEDO RISKS TOP BERTH IN GAME TONIGHT

High-Flying Rockets To Face Strong DePaul Team At Chicago

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Jan. 29.—Toledo's Rockets go visiting this week, and there's just a chance they will come home minus the state-wide collegiate basketball leadership they now hold with 17 wins and two losses.

Tonight the Rockets meet DePaul at Chicago, and the westerners are not to be brushed aside easily, despite the Rockets' powerful offense. If Toledo gets by that one, John Carroll must be met Saturday night at Cleveland.

Miami, second place with eight victories against a single setback, travel to Richmond, Ind., for a tilt with Earlham, but the Ohioans are favored.

With mid-year exams out of the way, Buckeye squads swing back into heavy action this week with 36 games. Half of them are booked for Saturday night, 10 are in the Ohio conference, and 14 with out-of-state squads.

May Boost Edge
Muskingum, Ohio conference leader with seven straight, gets a chance to boost its edge over second place Wooster, which has won six. The Muskies entertain Ohio Northern in a league fray; while Wooster meets W. & J. in a tilt that doesn't count.

The schedule:
Monday: Findlay at Bluffton, Toledo at DePaul.

Tuesday: Otterbein at Wittenberg, Mount Union at Bowling Green, Cincinnati at Akron, Miami at Earlham, Cedarville at Rio Grande.

Wednesday: Defiance at Bluffton, Georgetown at Alfred Holbrook.

Thursday: Heidelberg at Ohio Northern, Lawrence Tech at Desales, Wilmington at Wilberforce, Detroit Tech at Penn, Hiram at Kent State.

Friday: Hobart at Baldwin Wallace, Bowling Green at Marietta, Case at Miami, Detroit Tech at Ohio chiropractors.

Saturday: Ohio State at Butler, Toledo at John Carroll, W. & J. at Wooster, Case at Wittenberg, Bluffton at Ashland, Findlay at Heidelberg, Capital at Denison, Bowling Green at Otterbein, Mount Union at Hiram, Ohio Northern at Muskingum, Hobart at Oberlin, Penn at Kent State, Dayton at Ohio Wesleyan, Western Reserve at Ohio U., Xavier at Detroit U., Giffin at Taylor, Youngstown at Waynesburg, and Alfred Holbrook at Cedarville.

SAXONS DEFEAT CLEVELAND EAST

Salem Team Leads At End Of Each Period, Gaining 37-32 Victory

Leading throughout the game, the Salem Saxons defeated Cleveland East, 37 to 32, in a T. S. J. A. league contest at Cleveland last Saturday night.

The Salem quintet was out in front 15 to 8 at the end of the first quarter, 26 to 14 at halftime and 32 to 21 at the close of the third period.

Mike Linder paced the Salem scoring with 11 points, making five field goals and one free throw for nine points.

Forward Fath rang up three field goals and as many free throws to pace Cleveland with nine points.

The Salem Saxons girls gained their fourth straight victory, defeating Cleveland East lasses, 15 to 12.

The Salem girls moved into the lead at the outset of their contest and held the advantage at the end of each period. They led 6 to 4 at the end of the first quarter, 11 to 9 at the half and 13 to 9 at the close of the third frame.

Two girls collected all of the Salem points with Jo Linder leading the scoring with six field goals.

LEADING TEAMS OF BIG SIX TO CLASH IN GAME

Oklahoma, Missouri Play For Lead In Conference Cage Race

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Sr.
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—About a half dozen games this week should be as useful in indicating directions of various sectional basketball titles as the radio beam is to a fog-bound aviator.

The races are beginning to pick up momentum after nearly stalling during the mid-winter examination period.

This week's schedule stops as far short of bringing all the title contenders into action but the Oklahoma-Missouri and Drake-Washington games tonight, Yale-Princeton, Wednesday, and Princeton-Dartmouth, Colorado-Utah and Oregon-Oregon State games, Saturday, are of utmost importance in five major court circuits.

Oklahoma and Missouri tied for the Big Six championship last season, each beating the other on its home court. Tonight, Missouri's Tigers, leading the circuit, are the "home" hosts in their 1940 clash.

Oklahoma's Sooners are tied for second with Kansas.

Drake was dropped into a third-place tie with Washington in the Missouri Valley conference by a one-point loss to Creighton last Saturday.

Princeton's Tigers are the "unknowns" of the eastern intercollegiate league. They vaulted into first place last Saturday by whipping Cornell, 30-23, in their first league game. Their two rivals, tied this week for second, are leading title contenders.

Colorado, Rocky Mountain Big Seven 1939 champions, handed Utah its first defeat of the season, 42-38, at Boulder last week. They meet again at Salt Lake City Saturday and the "home court" advantage may reverse the decision. Utah State leads the league.

ANOTHER NEW MODERN BRICK HOME

I have sold some fine new modern brick homes thus far in 1940 and here is another which should sell just as quickly. A large 6-room modern brick home ideally located among all fine homes. Nice lot, 50x190, with 3-car garage. Grand big living room with open fireplace.
 Lovely basement with 4 separately walled compartments. Three pleasant bedrooms with bath and linen closet on 2nd floor. Hardwood floors throughout. Downstairs finished in mahogany and bedrooms in ivory. This home will accommodate most any size family. Here is a home which can not help but please and it will soon have a new owner. The owner has considerably over $12,000 in this home, and for immediate sale I am pricing it at the extremely low figure of ...$8,900

ONE OF THE GREATEST SMALL FARM

BARGAINS WE HAVE EVER OFFERED

This fruit farm of 10 1/2 acres is located on Damascus rd., about 4 miles from Salem. Most of land is in fine young orchard, including trees of all varieties. This orchard is just at an age where the trees will grow into greater value every year. Has got 10-room house under slate, improved with both gas and electric. Good, small bank barn, also under slate.

The location of this comfortable suburban home makes it possible for the owner to make most of the fruit and vegetables right at the road. For quick sale he will include one Jersey cow, about 125 chickens, brood sow, spraying outfit, cultivator, 100 apple crates, battery brooder, extension ladder and many other small tools. The price for the farm and all the above equipment is only $5,500. This is a bargain you cannot afford to miss.
